

LESSON PLAN COMPONENTS AND SCORING RUBRIC, Revised 2016

- I. Measurable Annual Goal – This should be a goal that specifies what students should master over a predetermined period of time. This may be a restatement of the unit plan goal and should specify what the student is to learn in general terms. This goal may cover many lessons. It must be written in observable, measurable terms. Reference the Pennsylvania standard by number in parentheses.

1=restatement of the unit plan goal                      0= not a restatement of the unit plan goal

II. Short Term Objective

- This should state in behavioral terms what is to be achieved in the lesson for the day. It should include who, what, under what circumstances, and criteria. Short term objectives should be in the ABCD format.

1= ABCD format used                      0=ABCD format not used

- The behavior is clearly defined and measurable

1=clear, measurable                      0=unclear, not easily measurable

- The condition is clear and makes sense in the context of the presented lesson.

1 = clear, makes sense                      0 = unclear, does not make sense

- The degree is clear and makes sense in the context of the presented lesson.

1 = clear, makes sense                      0 = unclear, does not make sense

- Short term objectives should enable one to progress toward the annual goal.

1=enables progression toward goal                      0=does not enable progression

- The objectives should be specific for the day's lesson and be reflective of what you wish to accomplish during that lesson only.

1= accomplished during lesson                      0=not accomplished during lesson

- III. Materials – All equipment and supplies should be listed including any materials and/or media that will be used to achieve the lesson's purpose (pages or chapters in text, filmstrips, computer programs, films, guest experts, AV equipment).

1=materials are sufficient and appropriate for achieving the lesson's purpose
0=materials are insufficient, not appropriate, or distract, from the lesson's purpose

- Materials indicated in this section are mentioned/referred to specifically in the lesson plan.

1=all materials are mentioned                      0=one or more materials are not mentioned
