

Course Section Numbers

Course section numbers have been revised for easier identification of the course location.

Three or four characters (letters and numbers) will be used to denote the section number.

Character 1	Location
Characters 2 and 3	Section number
Character 4	Optional (may be used to denote campus of student as noted in the web course examples below)*

Locations used in Section Coding:

B=Butler County Community College

C=Clarion Campus

V=Venango College Campus

P=Pittsburgh Nursing site

W=Web based

X=Other

Examples of new section numbers:

B01 - course meets at Btler County Community College

C01 - course meets on the Clarion Campus

V01 - course meets on the Venango College campus

P01 - course meets at West Penn Hospital, Pittsburgh (reserved for Pittsburgh site Nursing students)

W01 - web course available to all students (typically used for summer and winter intersession)

*W01C - web course available to all students (not available to on-line degree or dual enrollment)

*W01W- web course reserved for on-line degree program and dual enrollment students

*W01V - web course reserved for Venango College programs/students.

Notes attached to courses will provide additional information (i.e. location, sections reserved for specific student groups, special registration process, and meeting dates for courses with dates that are outside the standard semester dates).

Collaborative Courses

Collaborative courses provided by other Pennsylvania State System schools will include a letter from the name of the other school in the section number (for example: E for Edinboro, S for Slippery Rock, etc.) with notes for additional information.

Graduate sections of 400 level courses

Graduate sections of 400 level courses will be denoted with a G following the course catalog number (ex: SPED 418G-C01)

The section number information is also available on the Registrar's web page at:
